Do you want to significantly reduce the likelihood of your property being burgled ?

Do you want to increase the likelihood of getting your property back if the unthinkable happens ?

Then *Theft*STOP can help

*Theft*Stop is an innovative company utilising the knowledge and resources of Universities, Police, neighborhood watch and crimestoppers to minimise theft and burglary and maximize the recovery of stolen property.

We have completed extensive research drawing on the knowledge and expertise of Police, University research papers and the recommendations of such police supported organisations such as Neighborhood watch and crimestoppers. This research has led us to the process' and systems that we have developed and made available to the public and business alike.

> To Minimise the likelihood of burglary and to maximize the recovery of your property you need to do the following

Property Entry Points Warning signs

This first point will deter many would be burglar. The burglar will have to make a choice is it worth having to check every item for identifiable marking. Being caught with property that is identified will significantly increase the likelihood of arrest and subsequent prosecution

Equipment Marked and/or Labeled

All items are either and/or marked with the following

- Engraving or
- Covert UV Markings

> These markings are proven to significantly decrease the appeal to the would be thief.

The Thief must carefully examine each item prior to resale to ensure all identifiable markings are removed. If the thief misses just one identifiable mark the likelihood of detection and subsequent prosecution is significantly increased. Additionally the most effective method of removing the markings are by grinding off. This alone will significantly increase the likelihood of theft detection.

Site Inventory Completed

The site inventory will make it very simple for you in the event of a burglary. If your property is stolen you will be required to complete a police report and you will be asked certain details about your property.
The inventory contains the information the police need to maximize recovery.

> In addition your insurance company will require evidence of ownership and the inventory will fulfil their needs.

National Equipment Tracking Database (NETD)

The National Equipment Tracking database can significantly increase the likelihood of recovery of your property.

All items are marked with your drivers license number, as recommended by police and neighborhood watch.

Once the site inventory is completed it is registered at the NETD. If a thief attempts to sell or pawn a stolen item any person , Police included has direct access to the NETD.

On entering the engraved or marked code, into the NETD, the items rightful owner can be immediately identified if registered with the NETD.

The identifier can then advise the rightful owner, who armed with their police report can contact the police for their action

To give you an example how simple recovery action is go to the theftstop website. www.theftstop.com.au and in the enter unique code box type in "test" and then press search
